

N136. Inspection Cameras

The new BTX-Series Inspection Cameras are rugged, waterproof devices used for remote visual testing and internal viewing. The BTX series cameras are suited to internal inspection of water, waste, and drain lines, seam and butt welds, underwater, and down-hole viewing applications. These products are available for rent or sale; in addition, service can be provided.

Taken From: "Inspection Cameras," Nuclear Plant Journal, November-December 1991, p. 40.