

ABSTRACT

REMP Sampling Strategy

Jim Key
Keys Solution, Inc.

It is important that the REMP sampling program be representative of the environmental impact resulting from effluent releases. While NRC guidance specifies REMP sample type, frequency and locations, additional attention needs to be given to insure that REMP samples adequately characterize the radiological environment. Considerations and recommendations for sampling of atmospheric particles, surface water, sediment and vegetation will be discussed.